STUDY ABROAD IN JAPAN

You can go to Japan to study Japanese, either through an Exchange Program for one to two semesters or on a Summer Study Abroad Program, as you prefer:

- * NUFS - Nagoya University of Foreign Studies is our Exchange Program partner, where you can study for one to two semesters, through either their Contemporary Japan Program in Nagoya (CJPN) or the Intensive Japanese Language & Japanese Studies Program (JLJSP).
- * Study Abroad Programs are offered mostly in the Summer through our Consortium / University System of Georgia Partner Universities. These Study Abroad Programs usually focus or specialize in specific topics or areas of study, such as the Religions in Japan - Buddhism & Shintoism, offered by Valdosta State University 2009. For some programs, knowledge of the Japanese language is not mandatory. Please inquire during the early part of the Spring semester for details about the programs and courses that are offered for students interested in studying in Japan during the Summer semester.
